Student Comments:

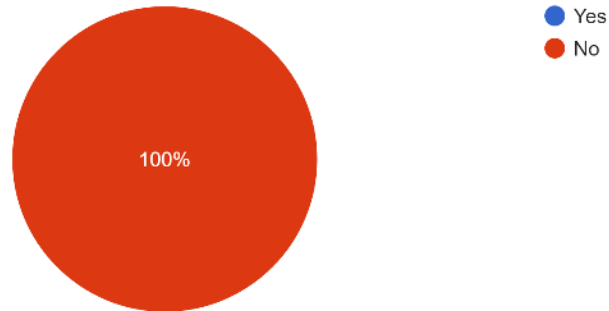

Some cases (to my surprise) male student opinion sought first and/or given more weight.

Some of the older, more 'normative' (male) adjunct faculty still make very gendered comments -- eg referring to generalized rabbis as 'him', etc...It's very irritating in 2021.

Modern midrash class seemed to weight female contributions more heavily than male ones.

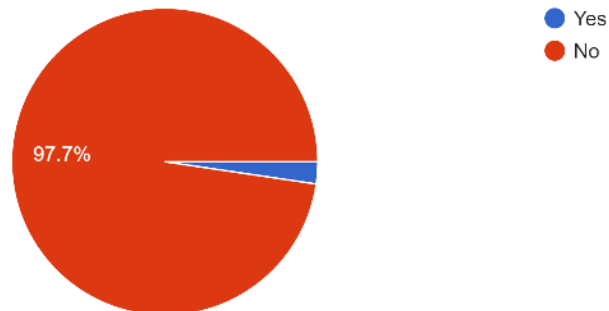

As a student at AJR, have you been verbally disparaged in a classroom or another student context because of your sex or gender?
